Agenda Item 3

Northampton Diverse Communities Forum

Minutes of meeting

1. WELCOME AND INTRODUCTIONS (Chairs – Councillor Suresh Patel and John Rawlings)

Everyone introduced themselves. People at the meeting included: Cllr Suresh Patel (Cllr Co-Chair), John Rawlings (Community Co-Chair), Morcea Walker, Anjona Roy (NREC), Lindsey Ambrose (NBC), Joe Biskupski (NBC), Matthew Toresen (FAN and Northampton Volunteering Centre) and Jo Wood (Northants County Council).

Cllr Patel thanked Lindsey Ambrose for her hard work and support. John Rawlings expressed his sadness at Lindsey leaving.

2. APOLOGIES

There were none.

3. MINUTES AND MATTERS ARISING

The minutes were agreed as an accurate record of the discussions of the meeting of 18 July 2012.

Matters arising – catch up with Police – John Rawlings to follow this up.

Housing update – this will take place tonight

4. NCC – HATE CRIME REPORTING IN SCHOOLS: UPDATE (Jo Wood, School Improvement, Northamptonshire County Council)

Jo Wood (NCC) provided a breakdown of the current position. Jo is the single point of contact for Hate Crime reporting within the education service. This is not a statutory requirement. With the widespread introduction of Academies, the local authority is stepping back.

Jo has developed an online reporting system. This is based on a system used by all schools, with software adopted to allow reporting of protected characteristics. The system went live in July 2012.

AR: NREC wrote to schools in the county, encouraging them to report and reminding them that they have to incorporate equality objectives within their service planning. Schools wrote back saying that there were problems with the software. A number of schools said that they did not have hate incidents. One school objected to their name and address being given and being written to.

Schools must publish equalities objectives on their websites – these would be the focus of school improvement discussions.

The Forum had a number of questions and comments, as follows:

Qu. For schools that have anti-bullying accreditation, has the reporting improved?

Jo Wood: Yes, there is better reporting among these schools. Within Northampton, there is only one school with this accreditation.

Comment: the secondary schools may ask what the outcome is of submitting a return. Some schools are already doing things in this area, but they don't actually submit a return.

Comment: the issue of resources is important here. Previously, there was a whole team doing this work. With resources being reduced, there is now there is only one person doing this work.

Comment: this is worrying. This relates to children, but what about the parents? How should they respond to this? What can we do as a Forum?

Comment: there is a need to encourage good practice. Need to consider whether schools are aware of the context and the value of this work, and need to ensure that appropriate efforts are made to counter racist language.

Comment: there is a general duty among schools to eliminate racism.

Jo Wood: it is important that schools evidence that they are reporting.

Comment: Ofsted is the body that ensures that the school deals with pupil behaviour? The Forum should contact Ofsted

AR: NREC writes to schools to remind them of their statutory requirements. These minutes of this Forum should be sent to Ofsted to inform them of our concerns.

Comment: schools would need to produce significant evidence. If schools are doing excellent work in the area of anti-racism, it is important that they share it.

Councillor Patel thanked Jo Wood for attending this evening's meeting.

5. ACHIEVEMENT OF PUPILS – AN UPDATE (in response to forum concerns – June 2012) (Kate Emmett)

Jenny – would like to know how children within the county are achieving.

NCC collects data which can provide trends of attainment. There is good news for Black children; the data shows good performance during the previous year. However, the performance of Black British children remains a concern. The remaining Black groupings are doing well. Black Caribbean children are the highest performing among Foundation Year (Reception Year) pupils. Their attainment has been improving over the past few years. Whilst overall, at National and County level, 64% of pupils achieve a "good level of attainment", 72% of Black Caribbean, 68% of Dual Heritage Caribbean and 67% of Dual Heritage African. 58% of Somali children achieve a "good level of achievement".

Comment: The Black Caribbean category could include Black British.

Comment: MW said that she has met university students who had been involved in the Black Achievement Programme in Northampton.

Comment: Deone McKenzie working for Hewlett Packard would like to put together a conference for high achieving black children.

KE: Need to keep a close look at "Other Black". There could be a variety of reasons for a dip in attainment in this grouping this year. Whilst Black children achieve above average at end of the primary stage, a concern remains about the achievement of children within the "Other Black" category.

There is a rising trajectory in the achievement of all Black children. The question remains, however, why are Black British children lower achieving than other Black groups.

AR: NREC invested money into Pilkington Report and is concerned that data is not being more widely communicated.

AR: NREC has attempted to engage with Northamptonshire County Council on pupil performance. However, AR believes that there has been a lack of effective communication on the part of the County Council.

KE: Schools hold data and this is communicated with parents. If parents have concerns about how their children are being educated, they should contact the head teacher. The school should provide attainment data. It is hard for NCC to engage with schools that have moved away from NCC control. With the shift away from NCC, parents should engage with the school.

AR: This is an excellent route; however, parents need support to do that.

JR: Attends a wide range of community events and sees that that many people are integrated. Need to consider when do we stop calling people "black"? It is important to consider where people come from and why they came to the United Kingdom. For example, East African Asians came from middle class backgrounds, and could integrate more easily. However other migrant groups have often come to the UK to work in manual occupations, and this will have had a bearing on their achievement at school. Accurate data can help in understanding, but statistics need to be treated carefully.

KE: It is important to consider how people define themselves. If a child is under-achieving, it is important that the school deals with this.

JR: Concerned that the good work that is done in primary schools can be undone at secondary schools. It is vital to learn from performance data at 11 and at 16 years of age.

AR: examining exclusions rates is also important in helping us better understand the problem of attainment.

KE: If young people do not take GCSEs, they are not counted in the statistics.

Jenny: There is a lack of understanding by teachers, who sometimes misinterpret how children respond.

KE: to email exclusion data, providing a comparison among groups. Until a few years ago, the drop of attainment has been higher among Black children at GCSE level. 51% of Black British children gain A* - C at GCSE level, whilst the corresponding figure for White British is 56%, and the national average is 55%.

KE: KE is happy to discuss what the Forum can do to further support pupil attainment.

KE: There are many websites for parents showing attainment figures.

6. HOUSING ALLOCATIONS CONSULTATION, SHELTERED HOUSING REVIEW AND TENANCY STRATEGY CONSULTATION (Ian Swift, Northampton Borough Council)

Following Ian Swift's attendance at the last meeting, the Forum requested an opportunity for further consideration and feedback on the housing consultations currently being undertaken.

For the Sheltered Housing Review a range of methods of consultation were used, including a paper questionnaire, fifty drop-in sessions (including two in the Market Square); meetings (including with faith and BME groups) and focus groups (500 customers). The 22% response rate is considered good.

For the Housing Allocations Review, consultation methods included: an online survey, focus groups, fifty drop in sessions, two Saturday morning events at Northampton's Market Square and attendance at Northampton's Forums. With fewer than 200 responses, the response to the online survey has been considered relatively low. Radical changes are being proposed in the review, with additional priorities for certain groups and removal of Bands C and D. This is estimated to reduce the register from 11,000 to about 6,000.

Comment: There is a danger that prioritising tenants on the basis of income could have the effect of creating housing "ghettos". There is a sense of admiration for the work of the Borough Council's housing staff in difficult circumstances. Sorry to see people who have gone in to career in housing, there is a sense of bitter disappointment over what is happening in to public housing.

IS: There is recognition that if the focus of consultation is disproportionately on the internet, many people will be excluded from this.

AR: Keen to see results. Some of the things she has heard about perceptions about who gets housing has been drawn from the experience of people who use the One Stop Shop. People who attend the One Stop Shop are often disproportionately those from migrant communities. They often have difficulties in communicating, and are more likely to visit in person to speak with the council.

Question: Does IS know whether people have been understanding the proposals outlined in the consultations?

IS: IS believes that people do understand the issues.

Jenny: Presented a scenario of a young couple aged 20 – 25 years, who are both working. What is the prospect of their being housed?

IS: Realistically, there is no chance of being housed by this authority. There is an increasing shortage of housing. In this scenario, there are no specific reasons for rehousing. Housing is driven by need; this couple would not be in a priority category.

7. COMMUNITY INFORMATION EXCHANGE

Welfare Reforms: Laura Bessell, the council's Benefit Team Leader, outlined Council Tax Benefit reform. The government has decided to abolish the national Council Tax Benefit scheme, and to replace this with local schemes devised by local authorities.

A consultation exercise on the proposed local scheme is closing on 22 October.

An Equality Impact Assessment is required to consider the impact of the proposals on communities. An impact assessment can be found on the website. A full impact assessment will be undertaken when the consultation has closed.

Q: Where are we publicising the consultation?

A: The consultation covers the borough, and has been being publicised locally through 2 radio broadcasts, media announcements, consideration at forums, and discussions with external stakeholders.

Comment: there is a concern that people won't be getting what they need.

A: Laura said that people will get different things to what they received previously.

Q: Is the council allowed to increase council tax?

A: During the current year, there is capping. At this stage, it is not clear under the Local Government Finance Act whether council tax can be increased.

Q: Must the council introduce a local scheme?

A: A local scheme is compulsory.

Comment: there is concern about a lack of understanding by people. Why would people respond to questionnaires that they do not understand?

Comment: there is over-consultation among people who are most affected by changes. They have other priorities and may not respond to consultation, even though it may be important.

1. Introduction

This Tenant Engagement Strategy sets out the commitment of Northampton Borough Council to Tenant / Customer engagement as an essential aspect of its housing service. Tenant engagement is characterised by constant change and the regulatory framework governing tenant engagement, involvement and empowerment has changed significantly in the last few years, placing a greater emphasis on accountability and “co-regulation”.

The Tenant Engagement Strategy 2013-16, is the first stage of turning goals into reality and with tenants’ involvement this should result in better decision-making and a quality housing service.

This strategy demonstrates how Northampton Borough Council and tenants (inclusive of leaseholders) will work in partnership together to shape and deliver a high quality housing service.

Northampton Borough Council has a long established commitment to engaging with its local communities, and recognises its responsibility to involve local people in the issues that affect or interest them. This will be undertaken in a way that offers choice and flexibility for people to become involved by offering a number of different engagement opportunities.

It is recognised that Northampton Borough Council has a continually evolving and diverse customer base and as such continued efforts are needed to promote equality and diversity and develop links with all under-represented groups including black, minority and ethnic groups, young people and those with vulnerabilities or disabilities.

2. Why do we need a Tenant Engagement Strategy?

Nationally tenant engagement strategies and agreements are part of the Governments’ agenda to improve services for local people and place tenants at the heart of decision-making and service delivery on issues that relate to the management of Housing stock.

We want to make sure that we are transparent in our plans and that our tenants and leaseholders can hold us to account for the actions we take. We feel this should be at the heart of our move towards co-regulation. The Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 introduced statutory objectives aimed at empowering tenants and ensuring that they had the opportunities to shape services and standards (co-regulation). This will require a change in culture and practice, where NBC management have responsibility for corporate performance. This will empower tenants to shape the decision-making process and hold them to account for service delivery as well as setting the strategic direction for the authority. The development of the tenants’ scrutiny role will put tenants in the driving seat of setting standards and monitoring our performance against those standards. Services will be more accountable to tenants.

3. What is Tenant Engagement?

Tenant engagement is about Northampton Borough Council and its tenants working together in partnership by involving tenants at an early stage in the decision making about the services they receive or decisions that affect their homes and neighbourhood, ensuring that they are aligned to local expectations so as to achieve an improved housing service.

Key to effective engagement is listening to our tenants and using their views to help us develop and improve the housing service provided.

Effective tenant engagement is about understanding the needs, expectations, aspirations, achievements and experiences of Northampton Borough Council's existing and prospective tenants as well as its leaseholders whilst continually improving its housing service as a result.

4. Promoting and Valuing Equality and Diversity

Northampton Borough Council recognises the importance of equality of opportunity for all our tenants. We aim to achieve equality of opportunity by ensuring commitment to the provision of readily accessible services and facilities and by encouraging engagement practices which take account of the diversity of groups and individuals. We will strive to ensure that our engagement activities are inclusive to all in accordance with the Equality Act 2010 and free from discrimination on the grounds of age, disability, gender and gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation.

Northampton Borough Council monitors the profile of its tenants. The breakdown of the key groups as at September 2012 is as follows: -

Ethnicity	% Of tenant base

White Other	12.99%
Asian or Asian British	2.04%

Local evidence has shown that Black and Minority Ethnic (BME) tenants as well as young tenants are significantly “under-represented” at most levels of tenant engagement. To help address this issue, resources have been identified to support projects aimed at encouraging active engagement across tenure in all communities within the Borough.

In May 2010 Northampton Borough Council established a Black, Minority Ethnic (BME) forum. This was developed with the primary aim of ensuring that the needs and views of BME tenants and residents are clearly heard and considered when developing/reviewing-housing services provided by Northampton Borough Council.

This forum plays a crucial role in the monitoring of the BME Housing Strategy and developing ways in which they can influence service delivery. New members are always welcome at the forum meetings and further details can be obtained from either the Community Engagement or Customer Engagement Teams if required and arrangements will be made to ensure that tenants receive language and communication support to actively participate in the forum.

A young tenant’s forum was introduced in 2010 following the delivery of our annual “Helping Hands” life skills programme for young tenants aged 16-25 years. The forum provides young tenants with an opportunity to voice their opinions and influence housing services. It is acknowledged that innovative methods of engagement may be required to ensure the fullest engagement of this particular group.

Northampton Borough Council also has an active Sheltered Housing forum, meeting quarterly with residents who have volunteered to represent their sheltered housing neighbours and provide us with feedback and suggestions for improvement.

Since 2011 we have been working on a review of our services and during the summer commenced consultation with customers in sheltered and general needs accommodation about proposed changes. With the help of sheltered tenants we are now developing plans for the new service. Tenant representation by way of a sounding board has been in place since the commencement of the review in 2011.

New members are always warmly welcomed at this forum and the meetings offer a chance for residents to be involved in measuring and influencing service delivery. Any new members wishing to be involved should contact the Sheltered Housing Team on 01604 838236 for further details.

Objective Three

To provide and support training and development opportunities to enable all tenants to make a difference

Objective Four

To maximise accountability and value for money to ensure that tenants have confidence in our services

6. Tenant engagement and the bigger picture....

Tenant engagement should not be seen in isolation, but as an integral part of the way we operate as a landlord. This strategy links in with other relevant strategies and national priorities: -

◆ Changing national and local agenda for tenant engagement

The national agenda for tenant engagement has changed considerably since the introduction of the Tenant Services Authority (TSA) and the Regulatory Framework for Social Housing, with tenant empowerment and involvement being placed at the heart of the Governments drive to ensure the delivery of quality housing services to all who rent from social housing landlords.

The Tenant Services Authority (TSA) was launched on 1 December 2008 and given a directive from central government to adopt co-regulation; this was subsequently defined in the Social Housing Regulatory Framework which introduced six standards in 2010 and then seven standards in 2012 (listed below). The Regulatory Framework emphasises the roles of both the housing landlord and their tenants in working together to raise standards of housing services, with tenants involved in scrutiny to hold the landlord to account.

STANDARD	INCLUDES

Tenant Involvement & Empowerment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Customer service, choice, complaints ▪ Involvement/empowerment ▪ Understanding and responding to the diverse needs of tenants

From April 2012 the responsibility for regulation passed from the TSA to the Homes and Community agency (HCA).

The HCA as the new social housing regulator expects tenants to play a key role in assessing their landlord's performance and holding them to account for any weakness or poor performance in service delivery. It also expects Landlords to take responsibility in ensuring that tenants can and do play a key role in improving performance and services delivered.

This new approach introduced by the HCA means that landlords and tenants regulate performance and service improvement together, with the HCA only intervening when there is evidence of serious failure or detriment by the landlord.

Northampton Borough Council is fully committed to working with all national agencies, to ensure that our tenants can shape, influence and monitor the services we provide.

Furthermore we are committed to ensuring that tenants are kept informed about future national changes that affect the management of their homes and are able to become involved and influence events and opportunities relating to the changing national agenda for tenant engagement.

◆ Northampton Borough Council Corporate Plan

The Tenant Engagement Strategy has strong links and is consistent with the priorities of the current Council Corporate Plan in particular: Priority 5-Better Homes for the Future, Priority 6-Creating Empowered Communities and Priority 8- responding to your needs.

◆ Northampton Borough Council Housing Strategy and Housing Asset Management Strategy

These Strategies set out the plan on how housing growth will be delivered through the provision of more affordable homes. They also detail how the Council will invest in its own stock to improve quality and meet the national Decent Homes Standard. Copies of the two documents are available via the council's website www.northampton.gov.uk and offer greater detail of proposed actions for tackling the housing issues and challenges faced by residents of Northampton over the forthcoming years.

◆ Northampton Borough Council Community Engagement Strategy

The Community Engagement Strategy 2009 and associated Consultation Toolkit are intended as a guide and support to policy making, encouraging better community engagement, empowerment and increased cohesion.

◆ Northampton Borough Council Vulnerable Tenant Strategy

The vulnerable tenants strategy, aims to assist vulnerable tenants sustain their tenancies and live independently in the community. The strategy aims to identify vulnerability at an early stage, and ensures that where required support plans are developed as well as the provision of advice, support and signposting to other agencies where appropriate.

◆ Customer Excellence Strategy

The Customer Excellence Strategy (2009-12) sets out how we plan to transform the way in which customers' access our services. The Strategy sets out our plans to work with our customers to understand their needs, offer help at the first point of contact by keeping them informed and providing excellent customer service.

◆ Safeguarding Children and Vulnerable Adults Policy

The Customer Engagement team will show due regard to this policy when involving tenants through various engagement activities.

7. Tenant legal rights to involvement

Northampton Borough Council as the landlord has statutory duties, obligations and responsibilities that are detailed in every tenancy agreement. Tenants have both statutory rights in law as defined by legislation and guidelines as well as contractual rights outlined in tenancy agreements/leases.

Tenant's rights and responsibilities are acknowledged and fully explained in the tenants Handbook.

There are a number of legal obligations in relation to tenant engagement. Tenants both individually and collectively have a number of legal rights. These include: -

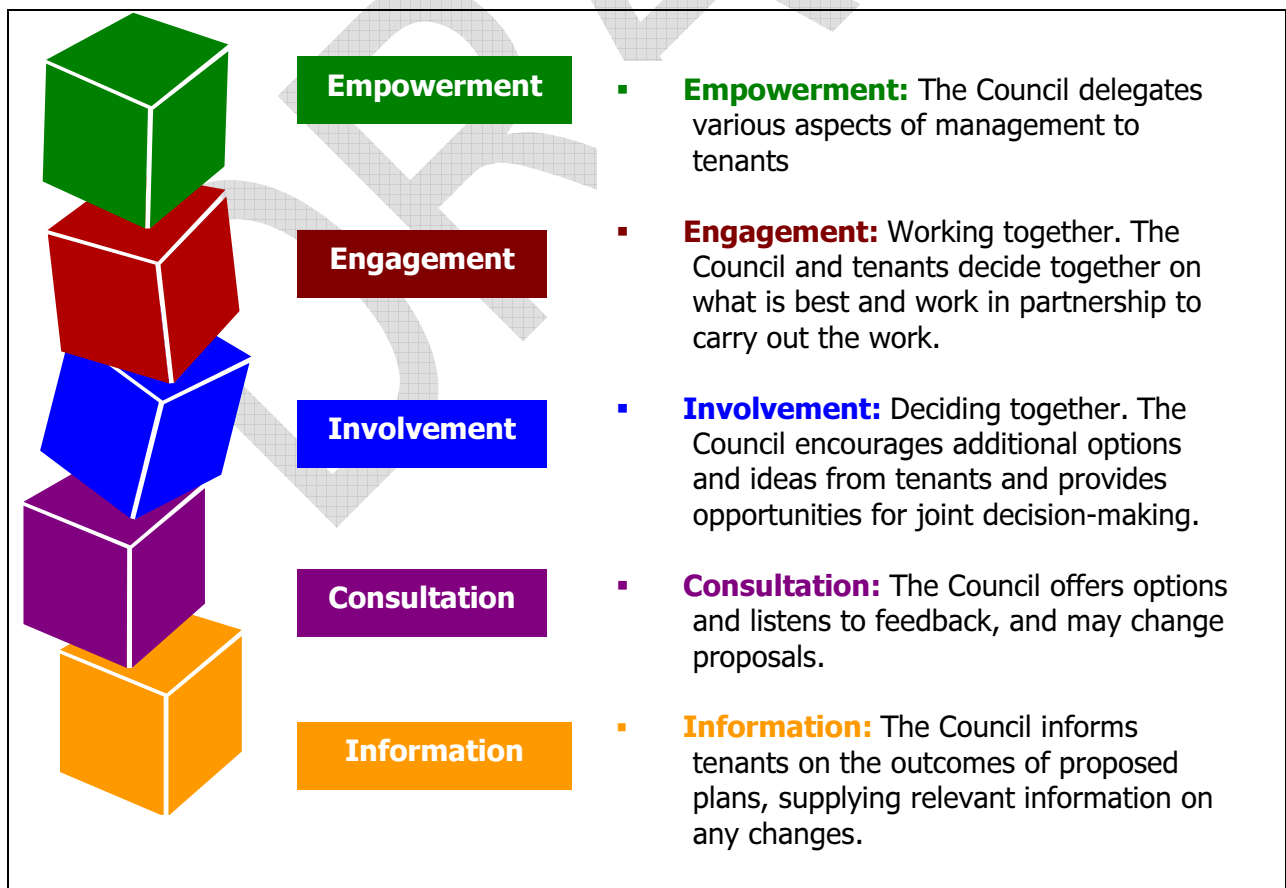

- The Right to be consulted (individual) – Tenants have the right to be consulted individually on housing management changes likely to affect them substantially (Section 105 Housing Act 1985)
- Right to information (individual) – Tenants have the right to information about the terms of their tenancy, the repairing obligations of their landlord, the anti-social behaviour policy, and allocations policy amongst other items.
- Right to manage (collective) – Northampton Borough Councils’ tenants have the right to take over the management of their homes providing that they meet certain criteria. To do this they would have to set up a Tenants Management Organisation (TMO), which takes on a package of Housing Management responsibility for an estate after entering into a management agreement with the Landlord.

Whilst some tenants may choose not to get involved, the Council still has a legal duty to keep them informed.

8. Ways in which you can get involved

The many differing methods of involvement that Northampton Borough Council use to ensure effective engagement with our tenants is demonstrated by the Ladder of Engagement below

THE BUILDING BLOCKS OF INVOLVEMENT

It is recognised that people want to give their views or be involved in different ways. As a result a number of ways in which tenants can get involved and participate are offered by Northampton Borough Council.

It is acknowledged that to become involved tenants have to be confident that engagement will be effective and meaningful. To ensure this, the Council will commit that the following standards are adhered to: -

- ◆ Effective communications – with all sides listening and clearly expressing their views
- ◆ Jargon free, accessible information – assigning a reader friendly logo to all tenant reviewed materials
- ◆ Give a clear indication of the time commitment required of residents
- ◆ Action taken on recommendations and feedback provided to those who got involved
- ◆ Well planned meetings, timetabled in advance, avoiding duplication
- ◆ An effective system of support for active tenants

Below are a number of options available to tenants as to how they may get involved. The list is not intended to be an exhaustive one, as new mechanisms will be developed to offer maximum choice and opportunities for people to participate.

CURRENT INVOLVEMENT METHOD	EXPLANATION

9. Tenant Engagement Service Standards

The Council has developed three core standards to ensure that tenants that are able can participate and contribute effectively and that they know what to expect from the Council when they get involved.

The standards cover the following areas: -

- Standards for resources/support
- Standards for meetings
- Standards for information

9.1. Standards for Resources/Support - what Tenants can expect from the Council to enable full engagement

Practical and financial resources are offered to enable tenants to participate in an effective manner. These resources include financial assistance, training, advice and practical support.

To help tenants who wish to participate/get involved, the following is provided:

- A dedicated Customer Engagement team who work to support and develop tenant engagement at all levels
- A detailed menu of involvement
- Training for tenants
- Tenant Engagement Standards (from national framework)
- Reimbursement of out of pocket expenses for attending housing management meetings and events; this includes transport costs and carer costs. Full details can be obtained from the expenses policy leaflet

Also with a wide range of information relating to housing and other council services all of the above information can be found on the Councils website at www.northampton.gov.uk or by contacting the Customer Engagement team on 01604-837836 or via email participation@northampton.gov.uk

9.1.a Tenant Training

An extensive training programme for interested tenants is available that has been designed to equip tenants with the skills and knowledge necessary to engage effectively in all areas of Tenant Engagement. The training programme was developed as a result of a tenant survey and follow up workshop. Examples of the types of training undertaken are listed below

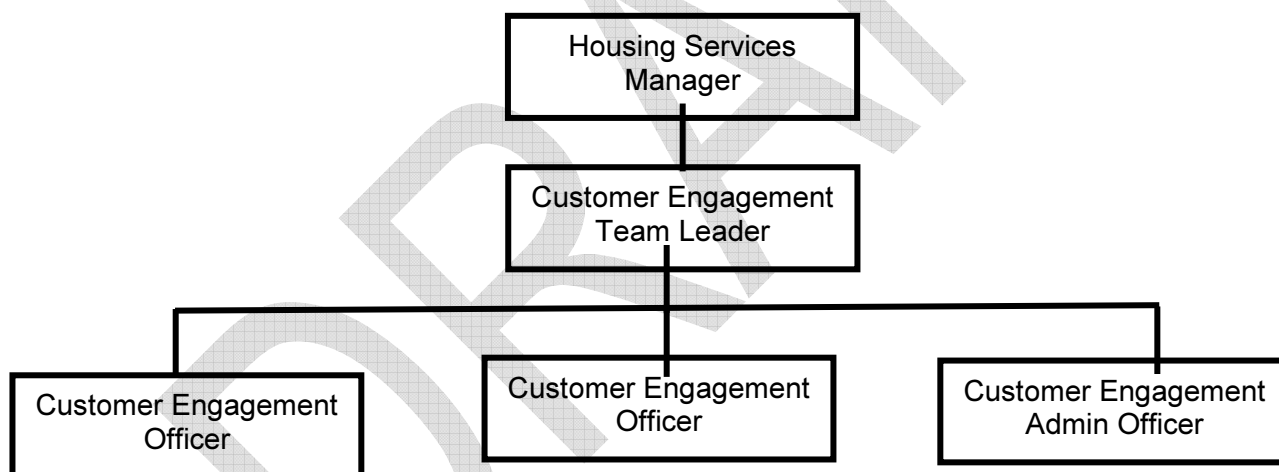

- Antisocial behaviour
- Equality and diversity for tenants
- Allocations and Lettings

- Rents / Housing finance
- Repairs and Maintenance
- How local government works
- Data Protection & Freedom of information
- Health and safety (around the home)
- Healthy Eating (practical session)
- Managing your money
- Helping Hands – life skills training for 16-25 year olds

A tenant-working group will be established to work with the Councils' Customer Engagement team to identify and prioritise future tenant-training needs. This group will also evaluate and review the quality and usefulness of the training previously delivered and makes proposals for future courses. An annual training plan will be published and promoted.

9.1.b. Resources for tenant engagement

There is a specific annual budget identified for tenant engagement projects, which particularly aim to broaden involvement by tenants across the borough. The Council employs a specialist team to support and lead on tenant engagement activities within the Housing Directorate, the structure is detailed below

In addition to this team all officers across the Council have a key role to play in delivering effective engagement, examples of this include housing officers attending and supporting local tenants and residents associations and organising local estate walkabouts.

The Leasehold Officer supports the Leaseholders Forum and works in partnership with leaseholders to improve the service they receive from the Borough Council. The Sheltered Housing Co-ordinators support the Sheltered Tenants Forum.

9.1.c. Reimbursement of out of pocket expenses

Northampton Borough Council will reimburse out of pocket expenses incurred by tenants when attending events and meetings at the Council's request in line with its expenses policy.

The Council may reimburse you for childcare costs, carers' costs and travel costs. Further details on the policy are available on request by contacting the Customer Engagement team on 01604 837836 or email: participation@northampton.gov.uk

Payments will only be made when incurred with the agreement of the Council's Customer Engagement Team or a nominated officer, and in accordance with published rates (which are subject to change).

9.2. Standard for meetings - What tenants can expect when attending engagement meetings held by the Council

Meetings play an important part in the delivery of an effective engagement framework but it is recognized that meetings are not always well attended and continued efforts are required to encourage high turnout

It is important that when attending a meeting tenants feel that by attending they will not only be listened to but also that there will be visible outcomes.

To be effective, Northampton Borough Council will ensure that meetings:

- ◆ Have clear terms of reference
- ◆ Adhere to a code of conduct
- ◆ Have arrangements for reporting back outcomes and feedback to attendees
- ◆ Have a clear agenda and associated papers supplied a minimum of 7 days before the meeting. We will try as much as possible to avoid tabling papers at the meeting
- ◆ Be held at venues, which, wherever possible, are suitable for disabled people and are held at times which are convenient and accessible.
- ◆ Be effectively chaired, and conducted in a fair and democratic way so that everyone gets a chance to have their say
- ◆ Have arrangements to support attendees with for example out of pocket expenses, and support for tenants with special needs e.g. interpreters.
- ◆ Action points will be communicated when and where appropriate to all interested parties.

9.3. Standard for information - What tenants can expect when receiving information from the Council

Northampton Borough Council aims to provide up-to-date, relevant information at the right time to ensure that tenant engagement is effective.

Information is given for a variety of reasons; to help develop ideas, keep tenants informed about decisions taken, advise people of meetings or to seek views on proposals.

Information is the first level of involvement. We want you to know what is going on, how to obtain further information and how to participate if you are interested.

Tenants housed by Northampton Borough Council have a range of diverse needs with regards to how they would like to receive information. As a result the core standards for information provided by Northampton Borough Council -

- ◆ Will give a consistent message to tenants without unnecessary repetition or duplication
- ◆ Will be in plain language, free from jargon and in an accessible print type
- ◆ Will be made available in other formats on request.

A variety of methods to distribute and obtain information will be used. These will include posters, e-mail, “drop-in” sessions, meetings, home visits and letters.

Information can be provided in different languages and formats for example Braille and audiotape by contacting the Housing Customer Service Helpline 0300 330 7000.

In order to ensure documents provide information in a tenant friendly way, the Plain English group has been established. Members of this group read through documents and publications to make sure they are:

- ◆ In plain language and easy to read
- ◆ Free from jargon and unnecessary complex words
- ◆ Achieve their purpose
- ◆ Well organised and the layout is appropriate
- ◆ Tailored to a tenant audience

Documents and publications that are looked at and approved by the Tenant plain English group will display a reader friendly logo confirming this (see below).

Northampton Borough Council produces information, which is available to all tenants. Below are the main publications and leaflets we provide and how often tenants should receive them.

Type of publication	Frequency	Who receives it
My Home	3 times a year – Summer, Spring & Autumn / Winter editions	All tenants and leaseholders of NBC
Tenants Handbook and Repairs Handbook	Once when you start your tenancy	New tenants
‘What to do if...’ leaflets	On request	Leaflets are available to collect from the One Stop Shop, upon request and on the NBC website
Annual Report	Once a year	All tenants and leaseholders
New tenants sign up pack	Once when you start your tenancy	New tenants
Tenant Engagement Strategy and Agreement	Every 3 years	All tenants and leaseholders

10. Monitoring and Reviewing this Strategy

It is important that this strategy is successful and Northampton Borough Council are committed to ensure that the targets set as part of the action plan from this strategy are achieved and the quality of services offered in relation to engagement continues to improve.

The Strategy and action plan will be monitored and reviewed on a regular basis (yearly in the case of the action plan), this will ensure that it not only remains current, relevant and achievable, but also continues to meet the broader aims and objectives of the Council, its tenants and its partners.

Effective Monitoring of the TES 2013-16 will ensure its success. Monitoring will: -

- Identify poor performance and proffer solutions to improving performance
- Receive progress reports and updates on each of the 4 Tenant Engagement objectives
- Highlight emerging trends for future service planning
- Assess the number of policy and process changes / improvements due to the involvement of tenants.
- Assess our performance against each of the actions in the action plan.

The Tenant Engagement Strategy will be monitored using the following methods:

- ◆ Quarterly review meetings with the Tenant scrutiny panel with responsibility for engagement
- ◆ Quarterly performance publicised in My Home tenants' magazine
- ◆ Annual performance reported in the Tenants Annual report
- ◆ An annual impact assessment of the strategy
- ◆ Housing services satisfaction survey
- ◆ Housing performance indicators for customer engagement
- ◆ Northampton Borough Council's Local offers to tenants (tenant involvement / empowerment standard)

All Information will be analysed to make sure that the needs, views, opinions and priorities of tenants are taken into account.

11. Complaints and Disputes about the TES 2013-16

- ◆ A complaint in this strategy is defined as dissatisfaction with the performance standard of service received.
- ◆ A dispute is defined as a difference in opinion about how a policy or standard is being implemented and the two parties cannot achieve a resolution which satisfies both parties

The Council have general customer feedback procedures outlined in a document called "Complaints, Compliments and Comments" which is available from Customer Services on 01604-837441 or via email customerfeedback@northampton.gov.uk . This procedure encourages compliments, suggestions and complaints and should be used for all of services provided by the Housing Directorate including this agreement.

The National framework for tenant engagement compacts recommends that complaints should be dealt with at the lowest possible level. If individual tenants feel that the service received doesn't meet the standards outlined in this strategy e.g. insufficient notice for meetings, then in the first instance they should speak to the department or section responsible. If they don't receive a satisfactory response then they should write to the Customer Engagement Team at Northampton Borough Council or email: participation@northampton.gov.uk. Any such complaints will be investigated and dealt with under the complaints policy, which can be viewed or accessed via the council's website www.northampton.gov.uk in the feedback section.

The Localism Act 2011 proposes changes to complaint handling from April 2013; the change is in the introduction of Democratic Filters or Designated Persons. In simple terms this means that once the Northampton Borough Council corporate complaints system is exhausted rather than the next step being referral to the Ombudsman there would be a newly introduced level i.e. the "Designated Person" whereby a complainant would have to refer their complaint to a designated person before it could be referred to the Ombudsman. This designated person could be a Member of Parliament (an MP), a Local Councillor or a designated tenant panel.

The purpose of the designated person is to strengthen:

1. The local democratic process and accountability. The proposals to introduce a democratic filter are designed to put local people in greater control of driving up standards of social housing management and resolving most failings.
2. The knowledge of local representatives' in resolving housing complaints. The proposals give a greater role for locally elected representatives to resolve housing problems in their area.
3. The speed of resolution of disputes at the local level. Local representatives are expected to understand local issues and to be well placed to work with landlords to resolve complaints more quickly by avoiding the need to go to the Ombudsman.

The proposed scrutiny system once fully developed is sufficiently flexible to accommodate the tenant panel aspect of the Democratic filter and it is proposed that the overarching scrutiny panel will undertake the role.

12. Tenant Engagement – the future

In order to meet the identified aims and objectives of this strategy an annual action plan will be produced. Tenant engagement is a fast moving area for national and local policy and as such this annual action plan will be produced and published on the Engagement section of Northampton Borough Council's website.

The action plan will outline all of the key actions that are necessary to ensure that the Council is fully compliant with legal, regulatory and best practice requirements in relation to tenant engagement and ensures that tenant engagement remains high profile and a key driver for its current improvement journey.

It will capture in specific detail how the Council aims to be more inclusive, involving more tenants, shape services around tenant's priorities and identified need, achieve local offers, introduce scrutiny /performance arrangements and undertake a range of additional innovative measures to ensure the delivery of the four objectives of this agreement.

Aligned to the achievement of all of the actions is the embedding of an engagement culture throughout the Council, whereby engagement is considered a key part of every officer's daily routine. This will ensure that we are successful in delivering effective outcomes and enabling more opportunities and choice for tenants to participate in a meaningful way.

The publication of the regulatory framework for social housing places a clear expectation on NBC that we have a system of robust tenant scrutiny in place, which provides a system of customer challenge and genuine tenant input in the development and improvement of Housing Services at Northampton.

The concept of resident-led self-regulation and scrutiny has been developed with the aim of giving tenants more influence over the priorities and performance of their landlord an approach that this agreement fully supports and by its design allows it to be delivered.

Put simply this is an approach where residents' priorities, views and engagement with relevant processes are at the heart of Northampton Borough Council frameworks for directing, accounting for, monitoring, assessing and modifying their own behaviour and performance.

If we are to deliver a structure that not only supports this method of engagement and additionally meets and exceeds the Government guidelines in relation to Tenant led self-regulation, then a system of effective Tenant Scrutiny panels are central to achieving this.

Once established effective Tenant Scrutiny will result in internal processes at NBC that not only support challenges of performance but also give our tenants the power to challenge service delivery but also drive change; done effectively this will in turn result in improved processes and better quality housing services being delivered to NBC customers.

In order to ensure effective tenant scrutiny at Northampton Borough Council we have to establish arrangements that not only build on the good work produced in previous years by tenant engagement but also deliver a structure that best suits our local situation.

To achieve this we have taken into account good practice models available nationally but the newness of the Scrutiny panel initiative means that at present it is still in an emerging stage and there are no hard and fast rules regarding its introduction and as a result we will be able to develop a structure that fits the requirements of NBC rather than making our service delivery model meet a national or regional framework / model. The result of this will be that the final model is most effective for Northampton and best meets and serves the needs of its tenants.

When developing the Northampton model of tenant scrutiny there are a number of key steps that have to be fully considered these are:

- Building in self-determination – For scrutiny to be fully effective then tenants have to lead on scrutiny, with the panel being able to set their own priorities. They will achieve this by looking at areas they consider most important, asking for and receiving information, and reporting findings themselves. The biggest change likely to arise from this element is that tenants who have previously been passive become proactive when undertaking a scrutiny role as they will be expected to present findings and make recommendations.
- Getting 'buy in' from members, staff and tenants – scrutiny will only work well if tenants not only want it, but equally are able to see the benefit of becoming involved both of which will be supported by senior management/elected member's respecting and demonstrating respect for and valuing the scrutiny role performed by tenants.
- Making sure recruitment and the composition of the scrutiny group suit the circumstances faced by NBC – The success of the model is largely based on establishing panels that work effectively and command confidence. To deliver this the recruitment processes and subsequent involvement levels of the tenants involved will make or break the success of Scrutiny. If the panel is to be fully successful it needs to be representative of the wider tenant body.
- Identification of the skill sets required by tenants and supporting this with targeted quality training – good scrutiny requires particular skills and knowledge; this includes things such as the ability to phrase scrutiny questions and obtain answers. In order to fully develop this aspect of the scrutiny approach it will be necessary to undertake a full skills audit of interested tenants and follow this up with appropriate training, this will in turn ensure that the panel can be effective.
- Be clear on the structures and powers from the outset – clarity on how things link together, what can and cannot be achieved, and where to obtain particular responses to enquiries can determine the effectiveness of scrutiny.

If scrutiny is to deliver the maximum benefit then it needs to become an embedded part of the culture at NBC and the following will be the key characteristics of genuine tenant led scrutiny

- Independence from other governance and management structures.
- Formality in operation.
- Power for residents to challenge and effect change.

Independence means that the people who control the scrutiny and intervention of resident-led self-regulation are not the same people who manage the Housing Service. This allows for another perspective from management to complement or challenge views held and scrutiny will not be influenced by those with a preferred direction for the Service.

Formality gives confidence and legitimacy to the scrutiny role. It also gives residents confidence that they are justified in asking for information and the activities will be taken into account. Formality can and should be achieved by prescribing structures, remit and roles at the outset. The introduction of a scrutiny panel takes this particular area of engagement away from the informal consultation traditionally employed at Northampton in regards to engagement to a more formal scrutiny role.

Power is important in making scrutiny an effective partnership of equals and those managing the housing service. Without power scrutiny activities can be simply a consultative process, which the landlord does not have to take any notice of and will quickly become ineffective and lose the support of tenants.

13. Proposed engagement model for scrutiny

The intention of the new structure proposed is to be an inclusive one, giving weight to tenants views assessments and priorities whilst ensuring that all who wish to be involved are accommodated at one or more of the different levels within the structure and that way the potentially divisive issue of elections is avoided and tenants self-select the role they feel most comfortable operating at.

An advantage of this approach is that it would counter, to some effect; tenant burnout by spreading the load amongst more tenants and also give a larger pool of committed and trained tenants and avoid domination by a small number of tenants.

The new structure will see the establishment of up to 5 scrutiny panels each of which would cover a specific area of service delivery. The exact number of panels will be confirmed once levels of interest are established. The structure is flexible enough to allow additional panels to be established or disbanded as and when required.

Once established the panel members would elect a chair and these chairs would then become the overarching scrutiny board/group with the additional function of acting as the tenant aspect of the democratic filter (designated person role) once this is established at NBC as part of the localism act.

It is proposed that the panels will cover areas such as

- HOME- Repairs and Maintenance, quality of accommodation including the Decent Homes Programme and Voids
- SOLUTIONS- CBL, Homelessness service and Gateway
- NEIGHBOURHOOD- Estate and communal areas, ASB, Cleaning and caretaking
- INVOLVEMENT AND EMPOWERMENT- Customer service, equality and diversity
- STRATEGY- VFM and target setting

The above panels would be presented with a work plan by the overarching board and meet as and when required but it is anticipated this will be a minimum of once every two months. Each of these areas has been identified in a recent 2012 summer survey on tenants' priorities.

The overarching scrutiny board comprising of tenant chairs would meet a minimum of 4 times a year with two of these being attended by the cabinet member for Housing and the Director, one of these meetings would be the presentation of an annual report highlighting the work and recommendations of the various scrutiny panels for the preceding year and the second would be concerned with the proposed work plan for the upcoming year.

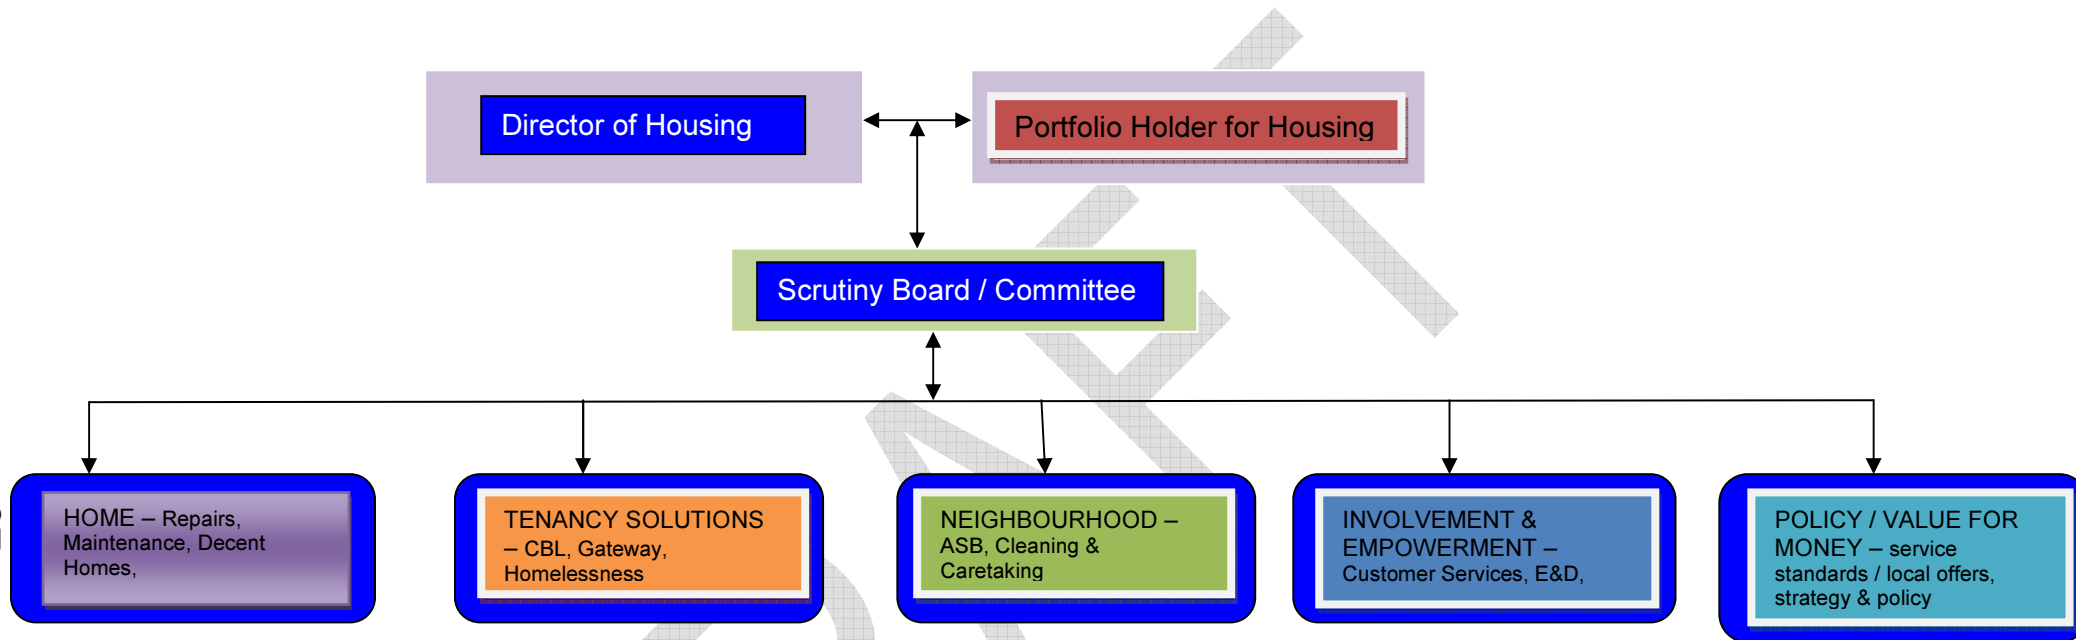

The annual work programme will be driven in the main although not exclusively by the following areas

- Development of tenant centred local offers
- Use of performance indicators
- Focus on issues that deliver outcomes for tenants
- Address areas of weakness identified in tenant satisfaction surveys
- Taking account of diversity and equality issues relating to tenant profile
- Value for money of service provided
- Develop a regular programme of Tenant Audits, mystery shopping etc

A schematic of the proposed scrutiny structure is shown overleaf

In order for the scrutiny function to operate successfully a long term look at service planning and delivery is needed, so as to ensure that services continue to reflect tenant's priorities and also deliver value for money. It may be necessary for extensive training to be offered to panel members in order that this aspect of tenant scrutiny can be delivered effectively.

The panels will all share a common purpose which is to improve the service delivered by Northampton Borough Council and received by our tenants, whilst remaining focussed on tenant centred outcomes.

Tenants on the panels may see things from a different perspective and not necessarily from the same viewpoint as officers and this should be seen as a positive of the scrutiny function, all conclusions of the panels will be based firmly on evidence rather than opinion or hearsay, but equally there needs to be a firm commitment that the findings of the panel are not only considered by the decision makers (senior officers and councillors) in the process but also that a response is given to the presented findings.

Background

The Regulatory Framework for Social Housing requires all social housing providers to ensure that all tenants are given a wide range of opportunities to influence and be involved in making decisions about how housing and housing related services are designed and delivered as well as in the setting of service standards.

We are carrying out this survey of all tenants / leaseholders of Northampton Borough Council as part our review of engagement options for the future as well as the introduction of the 2013 – 16 Tenant Engagement Strategy. to view our draft strategy, click here. The review is being carried out by the Customer Engagement Team.

The consultation runs from 1st January 2013 and ends on 31st January 2013. As part of this review process, we would like you to take a few minutes to answer a few questions that would help shape future engagement at Northampton Borough Council.

We will publish the results of this consultation on the Council's website – www.northampton.gov.uk. We will also post a copy of the results out to any tenant / leaseholder that requests the results in their questionnaire. please include your name and address should you require a copy of the results.

If you need this questionnaire in any other format, please contact the Customer Engagement Team on 01604-837836 or email participation@northampton.gov.uk or Text 07876 376920.

For any enquiries relating to the consultation, please contact Ashiedu Joel, Customer Engagement Team Leader on 01604-838223 or email participation@northampton.gov.uk

Northampton Borough Council is registered with the Information Commissioners Office under the Data Protection Act 1998 to collect, hold and use personal and sensitive personal information under registration number Z5256045. The answers provided in the questionnaires are treated as confidential information and Northampton Borough Council will not be able to identify you unless you specify otherwise in your questionnaire.

Thank you for taking part!

In the recent Housing Options review, tenants told us that they wanted to have their views heard and to have more influence in decisions taken by the Council. In order to address this, the Council would like to introduce a scrutiny panel model for tenants to provide challenge and give views on a range of housing activities.

Under the model being proposed, panels will be set up each of which would cover a specific area of service delivery.

It is proposed that the panels will cover areas such as

- HOME- Repairs and Maintenance, quality of accommodation including the Decent Homes Programme and Voids
- SOLUTIONS – Choice Based Lettings, Homelessness Service and Gateway scheme
- NEIGHBOURHOOD – Estates and Communal areas, Anti Social Behaviour, Cleaning & Caretaking
- STRATEGY – Value for Money and target setting
- INVOLVEMENT & EMPOWERMENT – Customer Service, Equality & Diversity,

The exact number of panels will be confirmed once levels of interest are established.

Membership of the panels will be on a self-selection basis after attending an event to be organized. Once established, it is anticipated that the panel will meet regularly, a minimum of once every two months. The panel members would elect a chair and these chairs would form a tenant scrutiny board.

The tenant scrutiny board comprising of tenant chairs would meet a number of times a year with two of these being attended by the cabinet member for Housing and the Director. An annual report highlighting the work and recommendations of the various scrutiny panels will be presented to cabinet for consideration.
